Regency Gardens Nursing Center Named PCTI Business Partner of the Year!

Wayne, NJ – FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE – Passaic County Technical Institute (PCTI) has just announced their Business Partner of the Year. The honor goes to Regency Gardens Nursing Center in Wayne, NJ!

The career and technical high school has experienced a privileged partnership with the healthcare facility since 1998 when it was used as the clinical site for PCTI’s Nurse Aid Certification program. Nearly two decades later, and the collaboration is still going strong. Regency Gardens Nursing Center continues to work in conjunction with PCTI to educate a generation of healthcare providers.

Upon receiving certifications or licensures, students (adult and high school) have been employed by Regency Gardens. PCTI also works with the company through School-to-Careers, a program which provides high school students with firsthand working experience. Additionally, the Regency Gardens Nursing Center sits on the school’s Advisory Board which assists in enhancing the learning experience of PCTI students.

Passaic County Technical Institute would like to sincerely thank the Regency Gardens Nursing Center for their long-standing support in ensuring that students of all ages receive the healthcare education of their dreams. Congratulations on being selected as PCTI’s Business Partner of the Year!

Board of Education members Michael Coscia (Commissioner), Al Alexander (President), Glenn L. Brown (Commissioner), and Robert Davis (Commissioner/Acting Executive County Superintendent) award Mark Benedek (Licensed Nursing Home Administrator), Mary Beth Papetti (Director of Nursing), and Marie Barnes (Corporate Marketing and Public Relations Director) of Regency Gardens Nursing Center with the Business Partner of the Year award.
